FOREWORD

Over the years, the African Commission on Human and Peoples' Rights has developed a number of instruments to aid in the interpretation and implementation of the African Charter on Human and Peoples' Rights, particularly as it relates to criminal justice. In 2017, the Principles on the Decriminalization of Petty Offences in Africa were adopted by the African Commission. This becomes the latest development in a broader regional effort to articulate standards for acceptable human rights practices, specifically concerning matters of access to justice. This principle advocates for a holistic approach to the challenges that arise in Africa at the intersection between poverty, justice and human rights.

Despite efforts to transform criminal justice administration across Africa, particularly in Nigeria, the poor and other marginalized persons remain vulnerable to violation of their rights within the existing criminal justice framework. Such violations extend to both the enactment and enforcement of criminal laws in relation to petty offences, and to the policing which actively seeks to exclude categories of people from areas of public life, namely the poor.

In this regard, laws that criminalize petty offences have the effect of punishing, segregating, controlling and undermining the dignity of persons on the basis of their socio-economic status. By restricting the ability of individuals to engage in life-sustaining activities, particularly for those living in poverty; petty offences infringe on the autonomy of persons, further diminishing their right to human dignity. The enforcement of these laws also perpetuates the stigmatization of poverty by mandating a criminal justice response to what are essentially socio-economic issues. In this regards, the criminalization of petty offences reinforces discriminatory attitudes against marginalized persons. It also contributes to discrimination and marginalization by criminalizing poverty, homelessness and unemployment which are conditions mostly prevalent amongst poor people in our communities.

In the light of the foregoing, the African Commission has recognized the decriminalization of petty offences as an important human rights issue. The Commission's Principle on the Decriminalization of Petty Offences therefore seeks to guide state on measures that can be taken to enhance human rights protection of the vulnerable poor in society.

This report reflects findings in commemoration of African Pretrial Detention Day 2019. It could not be published earlier due to logistics considerations. Since we have to publish it in this era of Coronavirus pandemic, it therefore captures COVID 19 human rights issues in relation to petty offences and detention.

It is hoped that the report will be found useful in improving the Criminal Justice System in the context of decriminalization of petty offences in Nigeria.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

The National Human Rights Commission (NHRC) acknowledges the efforts and sacrifice of members of staff of the Commission who visited, audited and collated information from various correctional centres across the country used to prepare this report. The report reflects the situation of Pretrial Detainees as well as those in detention for various Petty Offences in Prisons across the geo political zones in the Country at the time of the visit to the centres.

The Commission recognizes the support of the Executive Secretary, Tony Ojukwu Esq towards the successful completion of this report. Profound appreciation goes to Benedict Agu, Special Assistant to the Executive Secretary/ Head, Monitoring Department who effectively coordinated and supervised validation of this report.

Finally, we commend members of the validation team, Titilayo Samuel, Richmond Itheme, Codelia Ahgware, Kabiru Aliyu Elayo, Efem Atu, Anthonia Nwabueze, Zarau Abubakar-Abdullahi, Arinze Okoro and Hyginus Njoku.

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

The NHRC is a national institution established to deal with all matters relating to the promotion and protection of human rights guaranteed by the Constitution of the Federal Republic of Nigeria as well as all regional and international human rights instruments on human rights to which Nigeria is a party. In furtherance of its mandate to visit places of detention to ascertain the conditions therein and make recommendations to appropriate authorities¹, the Commission undertake studies of all matters pertaining to human rights and make recommendations to government. It also has the mandate to cooperate with local and international organizations on human rights with the purpose of advancing the course of human rights² amongst several others. The Commission joined other African human rights institutions in the commemorating the African day on Pre-trial Detention which is observed annually on 25th April in line with the Yaounde declaration. The theme for the 2019 commemoration was on the Principles of Decriminalization and Declassification of Petty Offences (offences with low fines or less than six months imprisonment) in Africa as launched by the African Commission on Human and Peoples' Rights.

Over the years, the issue of congestion has been an alarming challenge in the country's correctional centers, and it is even more alarming to know from findings that a lot of the detainees in the centers are pre-trial detainees some of whom are incarcerated for petty offences which in itself is borne out of socio-economic deprivation. The human rights and humanitarian implication of this fact is of concern to the Commission.

As part of actions taken in commemorating the day, the Commission undertook a nationwide audit of the Nigerian Correctional Centers (NCC) across the six geo-political zones in Nigeria. During the visit, staff of the Commission both at the head office and at the State offices interfaced with the Nigerian Correctional Service staff and detainees with a view to identifying detainees whose alleged offences for which they are incarcerated falls within the classification of petty offences. A listing of the category of detainees was also obtained from the centers .This is to facilitate the Commission's intervention along with other stakeholders in canvassing for the effective implementation of the recently passed Nigerian Correctional Service Act 2019 which provides alternative measures for non custodial offenders, as well intervention towards the decriminalization and declassification of petty offences.

Chapter one of this reports gives a brief history of the establishment of the Commission and outlines the Commission's functions and powers.

Chapter two introduces the concept of pre-trial detention and petty offences which is defined as offences which require warning etc, low value fines and short terms of imprisonment. The chapter also outlines the categories of offences that fall within the definition of petty offences as provided in the country Criminal Codes and under the Minor Offences (Miscellaneous) Act 1989. It emphasizes the need for decriminalization of these offences in line with the proposition of the African Commission on Human Rights (ACHR) despite the provision of the current laws.

¹S. 6 (1)(d) National Human Rights Commission Act 1995, as amended.

²S.5 (d) (g) National Human Rights Commission Act 1995, as amended.

Chapter 3 focused on findings from the audit on the Correctional Centers across the geo-political zones in the country with different sub heads namely: Condition of the Structures and Facilities, Access to justice, Detainees on Petty offences and Classification of Detainees.

The need for improved access to justice of inmates cannot be overemphasized as this is essential for the protection of their constitutional right to fair hearing and right to human dignity. A lot of the human rights issues indentified across the zones have been addressed by provisions of the recently passed Nigeria Corrections Service Act 2019. It is hoped that with the operations of the provisions of the Act, a lot of the issues identified will be dealt with. However, in line with the call by the ACHR, the number of detainees identified for petty offences in the Correctional Centers audited calls for the intervention of the Commission and other stakeholders.

Although this publication reflects findings on Visit to Detention Facilities in commemoration of 2019 Pretrial Detention Day; It contains a Chapter on “COVID 19 Pandemic and the Decriminalization of Petty Offences...” as shown in Chapter Four. The Chapter on Human Rights, COVID 19 Pandemic and Detention had to be integrated since we are publishing the work in this COVID 19 Pandemic era.

This is in recognition of the possible linkage between the Coronavirus Pandemic and conditions in detention facilities.

INTRODUCTION

The 25th of April every year is marked as the African pretrial detention day. This day was adopted by African Commission on Human and Peoples Rights³. It is commemorated annually to raise awareness on the plight of thousands of people who are held in police cells and prisons across Africa for prolonged periods without trial. Some of them are detained for minor or petty offences. (Often these people do not seem to pose risk to the society)⁴.

The focus of the year's celebration is "Decriminalization of Petty (minor) offences in Africa" .

To commemorate the day in Nigeria for 2018 , the Commission carried out audit exercise of prisons across the country to monitor minor or petty offenders in prison custody across the country. This activity was carried out pursuant to Section 6(d) of the NHRC Amendment Act, (2010) which obligates the Commission to visit prisons, police cells and other places of detention in order to ascertain the conditions thereof and make recommendations to the appropriate authorities.

Highlights of findings are provided below.

³ The African day on Pretrial detention is in line with the Guidelines on the Conditions of Arrest, Police Custody and Pre-Trial Detention in Africa ('the Luanda Guidelines') which were officially launched by the African Commission on Human and Peoples' Rights ('ACHPR') during its 56th Ordinary Session in Banjul, Gambia on 25 April 2015.

CHAPTER ONE

BRIEF ON NATIONAL HUMAN RIGHTS COMMISSION

The Commission was established by the National Human Rights Commission Act 1995 but began operations in 1996. This Act was reviewed due to some inadequacies and amended by the National Human Rights Commission Amendment Act 2010. The amended Act provides the Commission with greater autonomy, expanded powers and functions. Details of the functions and powers of the Commission as contained in the Act are discussed in this chapter.

The amended Act confers the Commission with the independence to carry out additional responsibilities. It also grants the Commission financial autonomy. The Enacting clause to the Act provides for the following:-

- a) Independence in the conduct of the affairs of the Commission.
- b) The funds of the Commission to be a direct charge on the Consolidated Revenue Fund of the Federation.
- c) The establishment of the Human Rights Fund and
- d) The recognition and enforcement of the awards and recommendations of the Commission as decisions of the High Court and for related matters.

1.1 FUNCTIONS OF THE COMMISSION

The functions of the Commission as provided in the Act are as follows:

- a) Deal with all matters relating to the promotion and protection of human rights guaranteed by the Constitution of the Federal Republic of Nigeria 1999, the United Nations Charter and the Universal Declaration on Human Rights, the International Covenant on Civil and Political Rights, the International Convention on the Elimination of all forms of Racial Discrimination, the International Covenant on Economic, Social and Cultural Rights, the Convention on the Elimination of all forms of Discrimination Against Women, the Convention on the Rights of the Child, the African Charter on Human and Peoples Rights and other International and Regional Instruments on human rights to which Nigeria is a party.
- b) Monitor and investigate all alleged cases of human rights violations in Nigeria and make appropriate recommendations to the Federal Government for the prosecution and such other actions as it may deem expedient in each circumstance;
- c) Assist victims of human rights violations and seek appropriate redress and remedies on their behalf.
- d) Undertake studies on all matters pertaining to human rights and assist the Federal, State and Local Governments where it considers appropriate to do so in the formulation of appropriate policies on the guarantee of human rights.
- e) Publish and submit, from time to time, to the President, National assembly, Judiciary, State and Local Governments, reports on the state of human rights promotion and protection in Nigeria.

- f) Organize local and international seminars and conferences on human rights issues for public enlightenment.
- g) Liaise and cooperate, in such manner as it considers appropriate, with Local and international organizations on human rights with the purpose of advancing the promotion and protection of human rights.
- h) Participate in such manner as it considers appropriate in all international activities relating to the promotion and protection of human rights,
- i) Maintain a library, collate data and disseminate information and materials on human rights generally.
- j) Receive and investigate complaints concerning violations of human rights and make appropriate determination as may be deemed necessary in each circumstance
- k) Examine any existing legislation, administrative provisions and proposed bills or bye-laws for the purpose of ascertaining whether such enactments or proposed bills or bye-laws are consistent with human rights norms
- l) Prepare and publish, in such manner as the Commission considers appropriate, guidelines for the avoidance of acts or practices with respect to the functions and powers of the Commission under this Act.
- m) Promote an understanding of public discussions of human rights issues in Nigeria.
- n) Undertake research and educational programmes and such other programmes for promoting and protecting human rights and co-ordinate any such programmes on behalf of the Federal, State or Local Government on its own initiative when so requested by the Federal, State or local Government and report concerning the enactment of legislation on matters relating to human rights.
- o) On its own initiative or when requested by the Federal, State or Local Government, report on actions that should be taken by the Federal, State or local Government to comply with the provisions of any relevant international human rights instruments.
- p) Refer any matter of human rights violation requiring prosecution to the Attorney General of the Federation or State as the case may be.
- q) Where it considers it appropriate to do so, act as a conciliator between parties to a complaint.
- r) Where it considers it appropriate, with the leave of the court and subject to any condition imposed by the court, intervene in any proceeding that involves human rights issues.

- s) Carry out all such other functions as are necessary or expedient for the performance of these functions under the Act.

1.2. POWERS

1. The Commission shall have power to:
 - a) Conduct its investigations and inquiries in such manner as it considers appropriate
 - b) Institute any civil action on any matter it deems fit in relation to the exercise of its functions under this Act
 - c) Appoint any person, whether or not such person is in the public service, to act as an interpreter in any matter brought before it and to translate any such book, paper or writing produced to it
 - d) Visit prisons, Police cells and other places of detention in order to ascertain the conditions thereof and make recommendations to the appropriate authorities
 - e) Make determination as to the damages or compensation payable in relation to any violation of human rights where it deems this necessary in the circumstances of the case
 - f) Cooperate with and consult with other agencies and organizations, governmental and non-governmental, as it may deem appropriate; and
 - g) Do such other things as are incidental, necessary, conducive or expedient for the performance of its functions under this Act

The Project on visit to prisons in commemoration of the African Pre Trial detention day was carried out pursuant to the NHRC as provided by the NHRC Amendment Act (2010) to examine any existing legislation, administrative provisions and proposed bills or bye-laws for the purpose of ascertaining whether such enactments or proposed bills or bye-laws are consistent with human rights norms , as well as the power to visit prisons, Police cells and other places of detention in order to ascertain the conditions thereof and make recommendations to the appropriate authorities

CHAPTER TWO

OVERVIEW OF PRE-TRIAL DETENTION AND PETTY OFFENCES

2.1 DEFINITION OF PRE-TRIAL DETENTION

Pretrial detention refers to the detention of a person accused or suspected to have committed a criminal offence prior to the conduct of his criminal trial. In most cases, the suspect or detainee is compelled to stay within the detention facilities for days, months and even years while awaiting his criminal trial.

Pretrial detention may arise as a result of failure of the detainee to meet up with bail conditions or upon the outright refusal by a Judge or Magistrate to grant the detainee bail.⁵ Other factors that may lead to pretrial detention include corruption within the justice system, impunity and flagrant abuse of the principles of rule of law by law enforcement officials, abuse of power, poor legal aid system, and lack of accountability mechanisms for law enforcement agencies amongst others.

Persons in pretrial detention are susceptible to all forms of degradation, violence and abuse from fellow detainees, prison/correctional centre personnel, the police and other law enforcements agents. This has an adverse effect on the enjoyment of human rights and it facilitates violation of the right to fair-hearing, right to liberty, right to freedom of movement, right to dignity of human person as well as torture either for sadistic pleasure or to elicit confessional statements.

International, Regional and Municipal Human Rights Instruments contain ample provisions⁶ for the protection of the rights of persons in pretrial detention and emphasize that recourse to pretrial detention of persons suspected to have committed criminal offences should be the exception and not the rule.⁷

Despite the robust legal and human rights frameworks that aim to reduce the usage of pretrial detention, it remains a prevalent aspect of the criminal justice system all over the world. For instance, Penal Reform International reports that 30% of the prison population worldwide is made up of pre-trial detainees.⁸ The situation is also the same in Nigeria where the percentage of pretrial detainees is high. This leads to prison congestion, poor prison conditions and violation of human rights.

A lot of measures have been canvassed to improve the pretrial detention situation in criminal justice systems. Some of these measures include: the decriminalization of petty offences, adoption of non-custodial measures, prompt and timely prosecution of criminal offences and respect for rule of law and human rights.

⁵ This may arise due to the nature of the offence allegedly committed (i.e capital offences are not usually bailable), the seriousness or prevalence of the offence, etc.

⁷ United Nations, Human Rights and Pre-trial Detention: A Handbook of International Standards relating to Pre-trial Detention (New York and Geneva., 1994)

⁸ Available at <<https://www.penalreform.org/issues/pre-trial-justice/issue/>> accessed 23 February 2020

An attempt to improve the pretrial detention situation in Nigeria led to the enactment of the Administration of Criminal Justice Act in 2015 (ACJA) and its domestication/adoption in several States of the Federation. The Act amongst others seeks to protect the rights of detainees and ensure speedy trial of criminal cases.⁹ It is therefore hoped that this Act would be effectively implemented by all the concerned stakeholders in order to ensure the effective and speedy trial of cases as well as the protection of the rights of detainees.

2.2. PETTY OFFENCES

The Principles on the Decriminalization of Petty Offences in Africa¹⁰ defines “Petty Offences” as minor offences for which the punishment is prescribed by law to carry sentences such as warning, community service, a low value fine and short term imprisonment.¹¹ These punishments are as a consequence of commission of offences which include:

- a. Being a Rogue;
- b. Vagabond;
- c. Being idle or disorderly;
- d. Loitering;
- e. Begging;
- f. Being a Vagrant;
- g. Failure to pay debts;
- h. Being a common Nuisance;
- i. Disobedience to parents.

Furthermore, Petty Offences can be found in laws that are aimed at controlling public nuisance on public roads, public places,¹² as well as laws criminalizing some informal commercial activities like hawking and vending. In some countries, Petty Offences fall within the broad category of minor offences, misdemeanors, simple offences¹³, and summary or regulatory offences¹⁴.

For instance Petty Offences can be found in Nigeria’s Criminal Laws as follows¹⁵:

S/N	OFFENCE(S)	LEGAL PROVISIONS/LAWS
1.	Being rogue and vagabond	S. 250 Criminal Code Act, LFN, 2004
2.	Being idle or disorderly person	S. 249 Criminal Code Act, LFN, 2004
3.	Wondering capable of causing breach of the peace	S. 249 Criminal Code Act, LFN, 2004

⁹ See sections 14 -16 and 25-26 of ACJA which ensures speedy trial of criminal cases and reduction of pretrial detention time respectively.

¹⁰ This was adopted by the African Commission on Human and Peoples’ Rights at its 61st Ordinary Meeting held from 1st to 15th November 2017 at Banjul, Gambia.

¹¹ The Principles on the Decriminalization of Petty Offences in Africa page 7. Also, the Ouagadougou Declaration and Plan of Action on Accelerating Prisons’ and Penal Reforms in Africa calls for the Decriminalization of some offences such as being a rogue and vagabond, loitering, prostitution, failure to pay debts and disobedience to parents.

¹² Such as urinating in public and washing clothes in public.

¹³ The Minor Offences (Miscellaneous) Act LFN 2004 defines “Simple Offence” as any offence which is declared by law to be simple offence or is punishable by imprisonment for less than six months.

¹⁴ Opcit.

¹⁵ This list is not exhaustive.

4.	Loitering	S. 249 Criminal Code Act, LFN, 2004
5.	Behaving in a disorderly or indecent manner	S. 249 Criminal Code Act, LFN, 2004
6.	Soliciting persons for the purpose of prostitution	S. 249 Criminal Code Act, LFN, 2004
7.	Bringing contempt on uniform	S. 251 Criminal Code Act, LFN, 2004
8.	Street Begging	S. 249 Criminal Code Act, LFN, 2004. See also Ss. 4,5,6 and 7 of the Street Begging and Hawking (Prohibition) Law of Kaduna State, 2016
9.	Street Hawking	Ss. 4,5,6 and 7 of the Street Begging and Hawking (Prohibition) Law of Kaduna State, 2016. See also S. 1 of the Street Trading and illegal Market Prohibition Law Cap S12 Laws of Lagos State.
10.	Being a vagrant	S. 287 of the Penal Code Act, LFN, 2004
11.	Being drunk in a public place	S. 401 of the Penal Code Act of the Federal Capital Territory
12.	Taking alcohol as a Muslim other than for medical purpose	S. 403 of the Penal Code Act of the Federal Capital Territory
13.	Having no settled home or means of livelihood, common prostitute behaving in a disorderly or indecent manner in public, playing a game of chance for money in public.	S. 405 and 406 of the Penal Code Act of the Federal Capital Territory, Abuja
14.	Singing or uttering any scurrilous or abusive songs or words in public or to the hearing of any person in public	Ss. 405 and 406 of the Penal Code Act of the Federal Capital Territory, Abuja
15.	Being a common nuisance	S. 234 Criminal Code Act, LFN, 2004

Thus the project on decriminalising Petty Offences in our criminal justice administration is pursuant to the principles contained in regional standards of the African Commission on Human and Peoples’ Rights (“The African Commission”) on the Decriminalisation of Petty Offences in Africa.

The Principles were adopted by the African Commission in 2017 as a new regional initiative to articulate standards for acceptable human rights practices, specifically concerning matters of access to justice. It also seeks to juxtapose the enforcement of laws creating petty offences on the one hand and the impact on the less privileged taking into consideration activities that have direct impact on the livelihood of the poor masses as well as key populations¹⁶.

The Principles establish a platform which member states can use to identify and review laws that are repugnant to the rights to freedom from discrimination, right to equality, freedom from torture, cruel, inhuman and degrading treatment, the right to liberty as well as the right to freedom from arbitrary arrest and detention. These rights are guaranteed by Articles 2, 3, 5 and 6 of the African Charter on Human and Peoples Rights, respectively. Also these rights are guaranteed by the Constitution of the Federal Republic of Nigeria 1999 (as amended). Furthermore, the Principles encourage member states to consider the use of non-custodial actions as an alternative to sentencing.

The project seeks to ascertain the number of petty offenders in prison.

A good number of these inmates have been held in custody for over a year in flagrant violation of their rights as guaranteed by the Constitution of the Federal Republic of Nigeria 1999 (as amended). For instance section 35 (4) of the CFRN 1999 provides:

‘Any person who is arrested or detained in accordance with subsection (1) (c) of this section shall be brought before a court of law within a reasonable time...’

DECRIMINALISATION OF THE OFFENCE OF WANDERING AND PROHIBITION OF IMPRISONMENT FOR SIMPLE OFFENCES

The Minor Offences (Miscellaneous) Act¹⁷ (“The Act”) abolished the offence of wandering in Nigeria.

Section 1, thereof provides:

Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in the Criminal Code, Penal Code (Northern States) Act or any enactment or law, as from the commencement of this Act:

- a. A person shall not be accused of or charged with –
 - i. the offence of wandering (by whatever name called); or
 - ii. any other offence by reason only of his being found wandering (by whatever name called),
- b. A person who is accused of a simple offence shall not, by reason only of being accused of such offence, be detained in police or prison custody.

It must be emphasized that notwithstanding the provisions of the Act, more initiatives such as the one initiated by the African Commission needs to be implemented in order to reform our laws to be in conformity with regional and international human rights norms.

CHAPTER THREE

Findings on the Field

BRIEF CONTEXT

The issue of Pre-Trial Detention (Awaiting Trial), continues to be a huge problem in Correctional Services Administration in Nigeria¹⁸. Findings from prisons visited across the geo-political zones in the country reinforce the need to scale up initiatives to address the problem associated with pre-trial detention. Many of the prisons visited, as reflected on the table and data below indicate worrisome numbers of Pre Trial Detainees:

3.1 NORTH CENTRAL ZONE

States in the North Central Zone are Benue, Nasarawa, Niger, Kogi, Kwara , Plateau and FCT
Table of Prisons visited

S/N	State	No. of Prison Visited	Name of Prison Visited	No. of Inmates with Minor Offense	No. of Inmates with Petty Offence	No. of children in the Prison	Stayed beyond one year	Stayed below one year	No. with Legal Representation	No. without Legal Representation

5.	Kwara	1	Oke-kuru Maximum Prison	4	1	0	0	5	1	4
TOTAL		5		70	12	2	15	79	4	19

¹⁸ then referred to as Prisons

1. Prisons visited in North Central States including FCT

- A. Kuje medium security prison
- B. Jos Prison
- C. Medium security prison Makurdi
- D. Medium Security prison Minna
- E. Oke –Kuru Maximum Prison

2. Key human rights issues identified

A. Number of inmates with Petty offences

From the 5 prisons visited in the North Central, a total of 12 petty offences were recorded

B. Number of inmates with Minor offences

From the 5 prisons visited in the North Central, the total of 70 inmates were recorded for minor offences.

C. No of children in the prison

As at the time of the visit, there were total of two minors in the various prisons visited. They were found at Medium security prison Makurdi and they are 17 years old each.

D. No. of inmates who Stayed more than one year

As at the time of the visit, there were total of Fifteen (15) inmates who have stayed more than one year in the various prisons visited.

E. No. of inmates who Stayed below one year

There are total of seventy nine (79) inmates who have stayed within a year in various prisons visited in the North Central as the time of the audit.

3. Access to Justice

Access to justice by persons in detention is very important and an integral part of Criminal Justice Administration. Justice delayed is justice denied. Fair hearing, legal representation and speedy trial are necessary ingredients in criminal justice and administration. In the absence of these ingredients, congestion and other deplorable conditions will be the effect.

Therefore, in the course of the visit, the following issues were considered :

3.1 Number of Inmates with Legal Representation: Evidently, all the prisons visited in the North central had a total number of four inmates with legal representations. However, there are some prisons that have no accurate record of detainees with legal representation.

3.2 Number of Inmates without Legal Representation: Most of the prisons visited had no records of inmates without legal representation. However, 19 inmates were recorded to be without legal representation.

4. Condition of The Structure in line with Mandela Rules:
The United Nations Standard Minimum Rules for the treatment of Prisoners also referred to as the Mandela Rules.

It was evident that most of the structures in the prisons were old. However, condition of the structure of Makurdi Medium Prison, Benue State was new. Lafia Prison at Nasarawa State was renovated last in June 2018. Minna old Prison has a very old structure, and looked dilapidated while one part of the cell was renovated last, in the year 2009. Jos Maximum Prison, Plateau State, has an old structure that was renovated last in 2017.

Rule 11 of the Nelson Mandela Rules, for instance, provides that different categories of prisoners shall be kept in separate institutions or parts of institutions, taking account of their sex, age, criminal record, the legal reason for their detention and the necessities of their treatment. It further provides that:

- (a) Men and women shall so far as possible be detained in separate institutions; in an institution which receives both men and women, the whole of the premises allocated to women shall be entirely separate;
- (b) Untried prisoners shall be kept separate from convicted prisoners;
- (c) Persons imprisoned for debt and other civil prisoners shall be kept separate from persons imprisoned by reason of a criminal offence;
- (d) Young prisoners shall be kept separate from adults.

Given the above rules and best practices, it was observed that the Prisons visited (which kept males and females) complied with this ideal which stipulates that female detention facilities be separated from male facilities. However, all the prisons visited were indicted for keeping convicts together with untried detainees. In this regard, they failed to comply with the required standard.

Furthermore, young and minor inmates were kept in the same facility with adult inmates. There were no considerations for separating inmates charged with serious criminal offences from inmates charged with minor or civil related criminal offences.

The old and dilapidated structures in the prisons are also a challenge to effective Prison Administration in line with the UN Minimum Standard Rules in relation to Prison Administration.

5. Categories of offences recorded during the visit.

Most of the offences recorded ranges from the following:

1. Theft, house break, house trespass, shop breaking.
2. Unnatural offences
3. Rioting and unlawful society
4. Cultism and mischief
5. Criminal conspiracy and breach of trust
6. Advance fee fraud
7. Wandering

8. Loitering
9. Cheating
10. Attempt to commit offence.
11. Illegal purchase

3.2 NORTH-WEST

States in the North West Geo Political Zone of Nigeria are – Kebbi , Sokoto , Kaduna, Jigawa , Katsina and Zamfara

SOKOTO

1. Prisons visited in Sokoto

Central Prison

2. Key human rights issues identified

Lack of access to Water, Sanitation and Hygiene (WASH)

In the prison clinic there is only 1 toilet constituting a severe lack of toilets and sanitation services in this part of the prison.

In the borehole area, there are no generators to pump water. Therefore, when there is no electricity, water cannot be pumped and inmates will not have access to water.

Access to safely managed water and sanitation systems are human rights concerns.

3. Number of pre-trial detention issues

The prison did not have mattresses or mats for inmates awaiting trial. This is a contravention to the right to human dignity and section 19 of the United Nations Standard Minimum Rules for the treatment of Prisoners also referred to as the Mandela Rules.

Number of children identified

No detained children identified

4. Brief of each case

Specific details of cases not provided. No information on: offences committed, whether legal representation was provided, whether bail was offered and secured and ages of detainees.

ZAMFARA

1. Prisons visited in Zamfara

Medium Security Prison, Gusau.

2. Key human rights issues identified

None of the detainees had access to legal representation.

Most detainees are in the prison for misdemeanours such as criminal conspiracy, theft and criminal breach of trust. Only one detainee is detained for the petty offense on the case of vagabond.

Some detainees have been detained for ‘general offences’ which have not be qualified by any crime known to law (ie. General offence of fraud or general driving offences).

The longest serving detainee has been in detention for 7 months.

3. Number of pre-trial detention issues

The average length of detention for those awaiting trial is 1 – 2 months.

4. Number of children identified

No detained children identified –Ages of detainees not provided.

BAUCHI STATE

Bauchi Prison was built in 1820. Even though it has capacity to contain 500 people, the Lock up on the day of visit was 949 comprising of 278 convicts (male 276, female 2). 41 out of 671 Awaiting Trial Inmates were charged with Minor Offences and had no Legal Representation.

Some of the charges raise concerns, such as: Prolonged detention without trial for alleged offences such as failure to pay debt, conspiracy for theft, and failure to pay for bail as the facts below reveal.

1. Abdulahi Sulaiman - 30 years was remanded by Kobi Sharia Court , charged with "LAND DISPUTE" and had been in detention for 7 months at the time of visit without Legal representation.
2. Haruna Adamu - 43 years was remanded for failure to pay for bail
3. Sabo Musa - 35 Years was remanded for nonpayment of debt. He had been detained for one year.
4. Ibrahim Usman - 32 years was arrest because he is believed to know someone who stole a motorcycle. He has spent 2 months as at the time of visit.

NHRC and Prison Staff in a group picture

Bauchi State Coordinator presents NHRC Literature to DCP Bauchi Prison

BORNO STATE:

The convicts in Maiduguri New Prison were categorized into two subsets, subset one consist of those convicted with option of fine of less than N5,000 and subset two consisted of inmates convicted with option of fine of more than N5,000. The convict cells have bunks and mattress with mosquito nets. While the Awaiting Trial Inmates have only mats

Pre Trial Detention Issues :

68 Awaiting Trial Inmates were seen in detention. Though there was no available record, the outcome of interaction showed that most of them did not have Legal Representation. Many had also spent about 6 months in detention without trial.

OTHER CHALLENGES

- Inadequate beds and mattresses
- Inadequate uniform for the inmates
- Need for additional borehole
- Poor quality of food

GOMBE

Gombe prison which was built in 1919 has capacity for 379 persons. However, as at the date of visit, it was holding 1069 detainees.

Monitors interacted with the detainees and made findings which include that, many of them are serving jail terms as a result of Police harassment forcing them to admit committing the offences. Even though they wish to appeal, they are unable to do so due to financial constraint and lack of legal representation.

Only one person was serving jail term for petty offence as indicated below-

Name: Umaru Adamu
Offence: Vagabond
Sentence: 9 Months Or N800 Fine
Court: Chief Magistrate Court Billiri.
Date of detention: 24/1/2019
Duration in detention: 3 months.

The officer in charge of the Prison raised some issues including the following:-

1. Over population
2. Poor quality of feeding
3. Inadequate healthcare
4. Lack of pro bono Legal services
5. Many condemned inmates

TARABA STATE:

Jalingo Medium Prison

Name of Prison	Year built	Capacity of Prison	Lock up	Male	Female	Awaiting trial	Minor offences	Source of power	Health Personel	Health Facilities available
Jalingo Prison	1916	250	532	523	9	436	70	PHCN	Available	Prison Hospital

Capacity / Lock-up:

During the visit, it was discovered that the prison was congested; the congestion was as a result of the number of inmates that were awaiting trial and those that committed minor offences. The lockup was 532 compared to a capacity of 250. There were 523 male and 9 female inmates. There were also 431 male and 5 female detainees who were awaiting trial, 4 female were convicts, lifers were 5 and 6 are Condemned Criminals . Also, among the minor offenders, 4 had legal representation, 66 don't have legal representation and 3 were on bail. Out of 70 detainees with minor offences listed, only One had Legal representation

Charges include Criminal Breach of trust , Belonging to gang of thieves , criminal conspiracy and intimidation , theft

No. of Children in the Prison.

During the time of the visit, there was no child in the prison.

Inmates that committed minor offences

As at the time of the visit, there were 70 inmates who fall within the classification of minor offences. 66 were male and 4 were female.

Facilities in the prison:

The standard of facilities in the prison was appalling. The offices were old, dilapidated and in a complete state of disrepair. There was no steady source of power supply. According to Prison Warders, in most cases they borrow generator to pump water. The prison has a standard hospital building but poor facilities. They treat inmates in State Specialist Hospitals but the inmates' relatives are compelled to pay the medical bills. The zincs were rusted with leakages in almost all the offices and some ceilings missing in place.

Access to justice for detainees:

It was discovered that most of the inmates who were alleged to have committed minor offences on the spread sheet below, had no legal representation. Their offences range from theft, criminal breach of trust / cheating, criminal intimidation, inciting disturbance, conspiracy and cheating, etc. The summary of the record is shown in the table below

3.4. SOUTH-WEST

Reports were received from five of the Commission's State offices in the South West Geo-Political Zone of the country namely Ekiti, Lagos, Ogun, Ondo and Oyo States. A total of five Correctional Centres namely Ado-Ekiti Correctional Center, Kirikiri Maximum Correctional Center, Maximum Correctional Centre Ibara, Akure Medium Correctional Centre and Agodi Correctional Centre respectively were audited.

ANALYSIS FROM EACH STATE ON KEY HUMAN RIGHTS ISSUES

EKITI STATE: ADO- EKITI CORRECTIONAL CENTRE

ACCESS TO JUSTICE

From the report, it is shown that of the 46 inmates audited, majority of the inmates have been visiting Court. However, 6 have not been taken to court since remanded in the centre as at the date of visit, 4 visited Court last in 2018, while 18 have no legal representation. Though 2 of the inmates are shown to have been granted bail, they are still incarcerated because due to inability to administratively process the bail, or inability to contact family members. Of note is an inmate who is stated to have pleaded guilty and have completed his term but is yet to be released. A case of wrong charge was also noted of an inmate who is stated to have been charged by the police for stealing as against assault of a police officer. A number of inmates are reported to be awaiting trial.

Most of the inmates are on pre-trial detention.

No cases of unlawful arrest and detention, or children in custody were stated.

The condition of the prison was reported to be fairly humane. The pharmacy is reported to be well stocked with medications.

The table below shows the details of detainees in Ado Ekiti Correctional Centre

LAGOS STATE: Kirikiri Maximum Correctional Centre

ACCESS TO JUSTICE

The capacity of the centre is stated to be about 1700 but as at date of the audit, the total inmates are reported to be 4000. Of the total number of inmates in the centre, 1,439 are incarcerated for petty offences. This raises a serious issue of access to justice of inmates.

It was also observed that there are several inmates who have been in detention in the centre for prolonged period of 5 years and above for minor offences.

No cases of children in prison were reported.

On further communication with the State office on the condition of the centre, the cells are stated to be overcrowded which is contrary to international best standard and thus inhumane. However, the environment is stated to be clean and recreational facilities available.

OGUN STATE Maximum Security Correctional Centre Ibara.

ACCESS TO JUSTICE

The report shows that a high number of the inmates are on prolonged detention for upward of 6months to 2 years for minor offences. A number of the inmates have no legal representation. A few of the inmates are onpre- trial detention, while a few others are attending Courts. A number of inmates who have been granted bail are unable to post their bail and thus still in detention.

Cases of young persons incarcerated in the centre were observed during the audit. Two cases of young girls aged between 15 and 17 were particularly noted.

On the condition of the prison, it is observed that the prison is located in the city centre which is risky for both inmates and other inhabitants of the area. The cells are stated to be congested which raises the issue of dignity of human person. For a capacity of 510, the centre as at date of the audit accommodates 1143 inmates.The centre is also observed to be understaffed in relation to the number of inmates.

ONDO STATE: AKURE MEDIUM CORRECTIONAL CENTRE OLOKUTA

ACCESS TO JUSTICE

The correctional centre was founded in 1988. It has a capacity of 272. As in most other centres across the country, the correctional centre is reported to be congested. Of the total number of detainees numbering 938, 758 of them as seen from the table below are pre-trial detainees.

The condition of the cells is reported to be inhumane considering the congestion. Consequently, ventilation is poor, bed and beddings are inadequate and most detainees resort to sleeping on mats or on the bare floor. A lot of the detainees are also subjected to repeating the same personal outfit for a prolonged period as a result of inadequate uniforms. Other facilities as medical, kitchen, toilet as well as staff offices are also not excerpted in the degenerated state of facilities in the centre.

The report has no finding on young persons in the in the correctional centre

OYO STATE: AGODI CORRECTIONAL CENTRE

The report states that 14 young persons were found incarcerated in the centre. However, it is stated that all of them were released during the visit of the Chief Judge to the centre in May, 2019.

OYO STATE: AGODI CORRECTIONAL CENTRE

The Agodi correctional centre is an ancient structure built in 1894 by the Native Authorities. It has a capacity of 390 with an open out of 1210 as at the date of audit. As seen from the table below, the number of pre-trial detainees more than doubles the capacity of the centre.

STATE OF THE PRISON FACILITIES

a).Female Cell: The female cell was separated into two - Awaiting Trial Ward and Convicted Ward. There is a room within the general hostel building that had rooms for vocational training for inmates including; hair dressing, tailoring and bead making. The rooms had only two small windows which meant there was no proper ventilation and made it very stuffy (there was no fan).

b).Male Cell: The male cell was overcrowded and in very poor state. There was a small building for inmates who were being punished for offences such as sodomy within the prison and inmates who exhibit dangerous mental instability.

1. TOILET FACILITIES

The toilet and bathroom facilities were in a dilapidated state. About hundred (100) people had access to only one toilet.

2. KITCHEN FACILITIES

At the time of this report, the centre had no functional kitchen facility (the roof of the allocated space was falling off), forcing inmates to cook in an outdoor setting that poses a lot of risk and hazard to both inmates and the prison officers.

Also, the meal timetable pasted on the wall revealed a very poor nutritional pattern adopted for the inmates as they were given a particular type of food (beans) was given every morning 7 days a week.

3. TRANSPORTATION FACILITIES:

The prison has two Lorries, four vehicles and two Hilux vans.

4. MEDICAL FACILITIES

The prison has a sick bay with an admission capacity of six (6) persons. There are seven nurses attached to it headed by the senior matron and one Medical doctor whom at the time of the visit was said to be undergoing a course.

The sick bay store contained drugs for the treatment of patients with regular illnesses, as all severe medical conditions were referred to the University College Hospital (UCH) Ibadan. The matron stated that even though they had patients who were mentally unstable and required medication, the government did not provide these medications.

There was no provision for ante-natal and post - natal care of female inmates within the sick bay but the team was told that they were often taken to UCH.

At the sick bay, the NHRC team was informed about inmates who had been discovered to have various degrees of mental instability, seventeen (17) of them were brought forward to be interviewed by the team. From the interaction the team realized that this group of inmates needed special attention for both medical and legal reasons especially because there was no adequate medical provision made for them by the government forcing the DCP in charge to foot their medical bills from personal finances, and also the need for a legal determination of the legitimacy of their continuous incarceration in prison.

5. EDUCATIONAL FACILITIES:

The prison serves as a National Examinations Council (NECO) and the National Business and Technical Education Board (NABTEB) centre to enrol inmates to sit for these examinations, The Christian chapel of liberation built for the inmates served as the centre for the lectures and NECO examination as chairs and tables were provided by the Prison authorities while the vocational workshop served as the centre for the NABTEB lectures.

They have a computer centre which also doubled as a library.

The DCP stated that there are ongoing discussions between the prison authorities and the National Open University of Nigeria for the establishment of a centre within the prison that would give inmates who pass the NECO or NABTEB examinations the opportunity to further their educational pursuit to higher levels if they wish to do so, even as they serve their sentences.

6. VOCATIONAL FACILITIES:

The vocational training facilities available in the prisons are -

For Females - Hair Dressing, Tailoring and Bead Making

Males - Carpentry, Phone repairs

7. RECREATIONAL FACILITIES:

The recreational facilities available are – a football pitch, volleyball and table tennis.

WELFARE OF OFFICERS:

The following discoveries were made:

- a) Lack of Barracks/residential accommodation
- b) No uniform accommodation available for officers
- c) Poor office conditions with over-crowding of officers in the few office spaces available (about thirty officers within a space ideal for ten)

CHILDREN AND YOUNG PERSONS

Fourteen children ranging from ages 14 – 17 years old were detained in the centre.

BRIEF OF HUMAN RIGHTS ISSUES

The need for improved access to justice of inmates cannot be overemphasised as this is essential for the protection of their constitutional right to fair hearing and right to human dignity. A lot of the human rights issues identified in the reports have been addressed by the recently Nigeria Corrections Service Act. It is hoped that with the operations of the provisions of the Act, a lot of the issues will be dealt with.

RECOMMENDATION

It is recommended that all relevant stakeholders in the administration of criminal justice in the country collaborate to see to the prompt operation of the Correction Service Act.

2, The welfare of Prison officials must be seriously addressed especially with regards to their housing accommodation, office spaces, uniform changing rooms.

3.5 SOUTH EAST

States in the South East are – Abia , Ebonyi , Anambra, Enugu and Imo.

Five prisons were visited during the exercise as seen on the table below:

- F. Aba Prison
- G. Amawbia Medium Prison
- H. Enugu Maximum Security Prison
- I. Onitsha Medium Prison
- J. Umuahia Prison
- K. Owerri Prison
- L. Ebonyi Prison

Number of inmates with Minor offences

From the 5 prisons visited in the South East no petty offences were recorded. It is observed however that the list containing 544 inmates with minor offences obtained from Onitsha Medium Prison did not specifically mention the category of minor offences. Rather the list contains the section of the law contravened. This makes it difficult to determine the nature of the offences.

RECOMMENDATIONS

1. The Commission should advocate for the amendment of our existing criminal justice laws to decriminalized petty offences.
2. The Commission should push/fast-track the introduction and use of Non-custodial measures like the community service as alternative to incarceration especially with matters involving petty offences

CHAPTER FOUR

COVID 19 AND THE DECRIMINALIZATION OF PETTY OFFENCES CAMPAIGN – THE NIGERIA EXPERIENCE.

INTRODUCTION:

- 1.1 The Principles on the Decriminalization of Petty Offences which was adopted by the African Commission on Human and Peoples Rights¹⁹ defines ‘Petty Offences’ as ‘minor offences for which the punishment is prescribed by law to carry a warning, community service, a low-value fine or short term of imprisonment, often for failure to pay the fine. Examples include, but are not limited to, offences such as being a rogue and vagabond, being an idle or disorderly person, loitering, begging, being a vagrant, failure to pay debts, being a common nuisance and disobedience to parents; offences created through by-laws aimed at controlling public nuisances on public roads and in public places such as urinating in public and washing clothes in public; and laws criminalizing informal commercial activities, such as hawking and vending.’
- 1.2 Petty offences are entrenched in criminal and national legislation and, in most countries, fall within the broader category of minor offences, misdemeanors, summary offences or regulatory offences for which the punishment is usually between 1 to 6 months imprisonment or option of fine or both.²⁰ These offences target mostly the poor, low income earners and vulnerable members of the society and as such, criminalize poverty by seeking to exclude the poor from public spaces.
- 1.3 In most African countries for instance, beggars, hawkers, commercial bus drivers or persons trying to eke out a living to support themselves and their families are arbitrarily arrested and detained by security agents or members of task forces for offences such as loitering, begging on the streets or constituting nuisance on public roads and public places. These persons are forced to part with their little money in order to regain freedom or end up languishing in jail. This does not only affect their right to work and earn a living, it also affects their right to freedom of movement, liberty and dignity of human person.
- 1.4 As noted by Kagwwa,²¹ ‘laws that criminalize petty offences have the effect of punishing, segregating, controlling and undermining the dignity of persons on the basis of their socio-economic status. By restricting the ability of individuals to engage in life-sustaining activities, particularly for those living in poverty, petty offences infringe on the autonomy of persons, further degrading their right to human dignity. The enforcement of these laws also perpetuates the stigmatization of poverty by mandating a criminal justice response to what are essentially socio-economic issues. In this regard, the criminalization of petty offences reinforces discriminatory attitudes against marginalized persons. The criminalization of petty offences contributes to discrimination and marginalization by criminalizing poverty, homelessness and unemployment, and impact the poorest and most marginalized persons in our communities.’

- 1.5 Given the socio-economic and human rights implications of criminalizing petty offences particularly across the African sub-region, regional human rights bodies such as the African Commission on Human and Peoples Rights, Network of African National Human Rights Institutions (NANHRI) and other civil society organizations have embarked on a sustained campaign with the aim of decriminalizing petty offences. Despite the progress made in this campaign, inadequate institutional capacity, corruption, archaic laws, funding and ineffective criminal justice systems continue to pose great challenges to the campaign on decriminalization of petty offences.
- 1.6 The Covid 19 pandemic also created a new layer of threat to the decriminalization of petty offences campaign in Africa. This was primarily borne out of measures taken by Governments to safeguard the lives and health of their citizens. Some of the measures adopted were to lockdown areas or states with prevalence of Covid 19 transmissions, shut down borders, close down schools, markets, cancel or postpone sporting activities and impose restrictions on movements to avoid community or social spread of the virus.
- 1.7 To ensure compliance with these measures, various task forces and security agencies were mandated to implement the measures. This exacerbated the frequency of criminalization of petty offences and clamp down on petty offenders by security agencies as a result of the Covid 19 pandemic.
- 1.8 In this Chapter therefore, we shall recapitulate some of the efforts at decriminalizing petty offences in Africa as well as in Nigeria. We shall also examine the Covid 19 experience in Nigeria in relation to petty offences and the steps taken by the National Human Rights Commission as part of its campaign on the decriminalization of petty offences.

2.0 DECRIMINALIZATION OF PETTY OFFENCES CAMPAIGN IN AFRICA

- 2.1 The African Commission on Human and Peoples Rights (African Commission) has been at the fore front on the campaign to ensure the declassification and decriminalization of petty offences in Africa. This is in line with its mandate²² to aid the interpretation and implementation of the provisions of the African Charter on Human and Peoples Rights across the African sub-region. In this regard, Articles 2, 3, 5, 6 and 18 of African Charter on Human and Peoples Rights guarantee to all persons, without distinction of any kind, the right to equality before the law and to equal protection of the law, the right to inherent dignity and protection from ill-treatment, the right to freedom from arbitrary arrest and detention as well as the right to freedom from discrimination.
- 2.2 Despite the above provisions of the African Charter on Human and Peoples Rights, most criminal and by-laws in Africa observe the above provisions more in breach rather than in obedience by containing provisions that unduly target the poor, low income earners and other vulnerable members of the society who engage in self-sustaining ventures to eke out a living. This has created a disparity in the application of human rights standards in criminal laws by criminalizing practices such as hawking, begging, being idle and disorderly, etc which are attributes mostly associated with the poor in the society.

- 2.3 In recognition of the negative and socio-economic implications of enforcing these petty offences (which include congestion of prisons, pro-longed pre-trial detention, arbitrary arrest and detention, etc), the African Commission in 2003 developed the Ouagadougou Declaration and Plan of Action on Accelerating Prisons and Penal Reforms in Africa as a sustainable pathway for decongesting prisons by advocating for the decriminalization of petty and minor offences. Apart from the Ouagadougou Declaration, the Guidelines on Conditions of Arrest, Police Custody and Pre-trial Detention in Africa (Luanda Guidelines) also advocated for the decriminalization of petty offences.
- 2.4 In 2017, the African Commission adopted the Principles on the Decriminalization of Petty Offences. These Principles recognizes that petty offences in criminal and national legislation are contrary to human rights standards particularly the provisions of Article 2,3,5,6,18 of the African Charter on Human and Peoples Rights (which guarantees right to equality, liberty, dignity and non-discrimination) and sets standards upon which such petty offences are to be assessed.²³ The Principles also placed an obligation on African States to adopt and implement measures that would ensure that petty offences laws do not target persons based on their social origin, social status or fortune by criminalizing life-sustaining activities.²⁴
- 2.5 Apart from the African Commission, other regional human rights bodies such as NANHRI and Civil Society Organizations have also campaigned vigorously for the declassification and decriminalization of petty offences within the African sub-region. In particular, NANHRI which comprises of 46 National Human Rights Institutions in Africa²⁵ initiated a project titled ‘Enhancing the Role of National Human Rights Institutions (NHRIs) on Decriminalization of Petty Offences in Africa’. This project which is being implemented in phases²⁶ seeks amongst others to:
- a. Enhance the capacity of NHRIs to undertake reviews of laws, policies and administrative measures in order to identify areas for reform in line with the regional and international human rights standards.
 - b. Increase dialogue and focus at national level on the importance of decriminalization of petty offences.
 - c. Intensify collaboration between NHRIs and other state actors in the criminal justice system and civil society organizations and to explore alternative ways of dealing with petty offences.

²³ See Parts 3, 4 and 5 of the Principles on the Decriminalisation of Petty Offences

²⁴ See Parts 2 and 6 Ibid

²⁵ The NANHRI Member countries include Nigeria, Kenya, Ghana, Liberia, Sierra Leone, Mauritius, South-Africa, Namibia, Tanzania, Zambia, Niger, Chad, Ivory Coast, Uganda, Malawi, Zimbabwe, Algeria, Benin, Burkina Faso, Burundi, Cameroon, Cape Verde, Central Africa Republic, Congo Brazaville, Comoros, Republic of Congo, Djibouti, Egypt, Ethiopia, Gabon, The Gambia, Guinea Bissau, Guinea Conakary, Mauritania, Morocco, Rwanda, South Sudan

²⁶ The first phase was implemented in Kenya, Malawi, Cote d’Ivoire, Ghana and South Africa, while the Base Line study in preparation for the second phase is being compiled.

2.6 As noted b NANHRI²⁷, the successful implementation of the first phase of the project has increased dialogue and focus at the national level on the importance of decriminalization of petty offences in the 5 participating countries considered during the first phase of the project.²⁸ This was as a result of national consultative forums that provided platform for all the key national stakeholders in each participating country to discuss petty offences issues and establish the current situation of the criminal justice systems. In these forums, National Action Plans were developed that would be used as a guide to interventions by NHRIs and other key actors in decriminalization of petty offences in their countries. The National Action Plans are already yielding results. As part of implementing the National Action Plan, South Africa Human Rights Commission tabled the report on assessment of the municipal by-laws at national level to South African Local Government Association (SALGA) and Cooperative Governance and Traditional Affairs (COGTA) for necessary interventions.

3.0 DECRIMINALIZATION OF PETTY OFFENCES CAMPAIGN IN NIGERIA

3.1 Just as other African countries, Nigeria has numerous petty offences entrenched in national, criminal and sub-national laws. Some of these laws criminalize practices or persons suspected of being idle or disorderly, wandering, loitering or having no recognized home or means of livelihood. Life-sustaining practices such as hawking and begging are also criminalized. Synopses of these offences include but are not limited to:

S/N	OFFENCE(S)	LEGAL PROVISIONS/LAWS
1.	Being rogue and vagabond	S. 250 Criminal Code Act, LFN, 2004
2.	Being idle or disorderly person	S. 249 Criminal Code Act, LFN, 2004
3.	Wondering capable of causing breach of the peace	S. 249 Criminal Code Act, LFN, 2004
4.	Loitering	S. 249 Criminal Code Act, LFN, 2004
5.	Behaving in a disorderly or indecent manner	S. 249 Criminal Code Act, LFN, 2004
6.	Soliciting persons for the purpose of prostitution	S. 249 Criminal Code Act, LFN, 2004
7.	Bringing contempt on uniform	S. 251 Criminal Code Act, LFN, 2004
8.	Street Begging	S. 249 Criminal Code Act, LFN, 2004. See also Ss. 4,5,6 and 7 of the Street Begging and Hawking (Prohibition) Law of Kaduna State, 2016

²⁸ See note 7 above

9.	Street Hawking	Ss. 4,5,6 and 7 of the Street Begging and Hawking (Prohibition) Law of Kaduna State, 2016. See also S. 1 of the Street Trading and illegal Market Prohibition Law Cap S12 Laws of Lagos State.
10.	Being a vagrant	S. 287 of the Penal Code Act, LFN, 2004
11.	Being drunk in a public place	S. 401 of the Penal Code Act of the Federal Capital Territory
12.	Taking alcohol as a Muslim other than for medical purpose	S. 403 of the Penal Code Act of the Federal Capital Territory
13.	Having no settled home or means of livelihood, common prostitute behaving in a disorderly or indecent manner in public, playing a game of chance for money in public.	S. 405 and 406 of the Penal Code Act of the Federal Capital Territory, Abuja
14.	Singing or uttering any scurrilous or abusive songs or words in public or to the hearing of any person in public	Ss. 405 and 406 of the Penal Code Act of the Federal Capital Territory, Abuja

3.2 The implementation of the above petty offences in Nigeria has over the years led to wanton abuse of power, disproportionate and arbitrary arrest and detention of Nigerians by security agents and various task forces. In various states of the federation and the Federal Capital Territory, Abuja in particular, the criminalization of life-sustaining activities in public places (such as moving, sleeping, car wash, eating and exchanging food, trading, touting, hawking or otherwise earning a livelihood), directly target the poor, low income earners and other key populations²⁹ who are striving to make ends meet. These persons are further impoverished upon their arrest with imposition of fines and seizure of their goods and wares³⁰ and when they are unable to pay the fines due to socio-economic reasons, they are perpetually detained pending their trials and this in turn leads to the congestion of correctional centres and other places of detention.

3.3 Law enforcement agents and task forces in Nigeria have also unduly targeted women and girls in their quest to enforce petty offences by raiding night clubs, gardens and other public spaces at night and discriminately branding the arrested women and girls as prostitutes. They utilize the opportunity to violate the rights of the women to dignity, liberty, equality, movement, association as well as rape these women who are already vulnerable and engage in other sexual and gender based violence.³¹

- 3.4 As rightly noted by Oghenebrume,³² petty offences in Nigeria and their implementation are not only inconsistent with Sections 34, 35, 41 and 42 of the Nigerian Constitution 1999 (as amended) which provide for right to dignity of human person, right to personal liberty, right to freedom of movement and right to freedom from discrimination respectively, but are equally inconsistent with Articles 2,3,5,6 and 18 of the African Charter on Human and Peoples Rights.
- 3.5 In recognition of the socio-economic and human rights implications of petty offences, there was a sustained advocacy campaign by civil society organizations and other stakeholders which culminated into the passage of the Minor Offences (Miscellaneous) Act in 1989. This Act which was codified in 2004³³ abolished the offence of wandering in Nigeria. Specifically, Section 1 thereof provides:

Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in the Criminal Code, Penal Code (Northern States) Act or any enactment or law, as from the commencement of this Act:

- a. A person shall not be accused of or charged with –
 - i. the offence of wandering (by whatever name called); or
 - ii. any other offence by reason only of his being found wandering (by whatever name called)
- b. a person who is accused of a simple offence shall not, by reason only of being accused of such offence, be detained in police or prison custody.

- 3.6 Despite the abolition of some of these petty offences in Nigeria, they still retain their provisions in major national and sub-national laws in Nigeria. Also, the level of awareness of the abolition of some of these offences remains generally low amongst the populace many of whom in any case, are oblivious of their fundamental human rights. Hence, law enforcement agencies and task forces take advantage of this knowledge-gap to arbitrary arrest, detain and prosecute petty offenders.

³¹ See the case of Dorathy Njemanze & Ors v. Federal Republic of Nigeria (ECW/CCJ/JUD/08/17) ECOWAS 10;[2017] 12 October 2017 wherein the Ecowas Court held that the treatment meted out to the Plaintiffs by agents of the AEPB, the Nigerian Police and the Nigeria Military by arresting them on the street at night, assaulting and sexually abusing them constitutes cruel, inhuman and degrading treatment discriminatory treatment contrary to Articles 5 of the African Charter on Human and Peoples' Rights , Articles 3 and 4(1) of the Protocol to the African Charter on Human and Peoples' Rights on the Rights of Women in Africa, Articles 2, 3, and 15 (1) of the Convention on the Elimination of All Forms of Discrimination Against Women, Article 7 of the International Covenant on Civil and Political Rights and Articles 1 and 5 of the Universal Declaration of Human Rights

³³ Cap. M16 Laws of the Federation of Nigeria 2004.

3.7 This practice on the part of law enforcement agencies and task forces has been deprecated by various Civil Society Organizations, Human Rights Activists and other stakeholders. For instance, in a Statement issued to the Inspector General of Police in 2017, Falana noted³⁴:

whenever rich people were found on the street taking a walk it was said that they were exercising their fundamental right to freedom of movement. But whenever the poor exercise such fundamental right to freedom of movement they were usually arrested by the police who accused them of wandering or loitering despite the abolition of the Vagrancy Law. A person who is accused of a simple offence shall not, by reason only of being accused of such offence, be detained in police or prison custody. Despite the abolition of the offence of wandering throughout the country, the Nigeria Police had engaged in the indiscriminate arrest and prosecution of many poor people for loitering, under the pretext of ridding the Federal Capital Territory of criminals and other undesirable elements. Recently, the Police arrested scores of young people around Asokoro and other high brow areas in Abuja. They were illegally prosecuted, convicted and jailed by magistrates based on the allegation that they have no means of livelihood. The explanation of some of convicts that they had recently lost jobs was not taken into consideration by the trial Magistrates. This amounts to a violation of the fundamental right to personal liberty and fair hearing of those who have been illegally tried and convicted under the repealed vagrancy law in the Federal Capital Territory.

3.8 The National Human Rights Commission has also played key advocacy roles in the campaign for the decriminalization of petty offences in Nigeria. The Act establishing the Commission empowers it to visit persons in detention and to conduct nationwide audit of prisons and other places of detention.³⁵ Some of the objectives of the audits as carried out by the Commission include:

- a. to monitor, protect and enforce the fundamental human rights of persons detained for various offences, including petty offences;
- b. to ascertain the conditions and facilities in which the persons are kept in order to assess compliance with human rights standards;
- c. to evaluate the pattern of arrests and detention or nature of offences necessitating detention;
- d. to assess the effectiveness of the criminal justice system vis-à-vis the number of persons awaiting trial and length of detention.

3.9 Through the audit exercises, the Commission is able to make appropriate recommendations to the relevant authorities for better service delivery and effective administration of correctional and criminal justice systems in Nigeria in line with international human rights standards and global best practices. The Commission is also able to use the findings from the Reports of the audit exercises as tools to advocate for law reforms, decriminalization of petty offences, and payment of fines to facilitate the freedom of persons in detention on account of inability to pay fines amongst others. In this regard, some of the successes recorded through advocacy include the passage of innovative criminal justice laws such as the Administration of Criminal Justice Act, 2015 which provides for non-custodial sentencing measures as well as the Anti-Torture Act, 2017 which criminalizes acts of torture.

3.10 The Commission has also in recent past condemned the indiscriminate raiding of night clubs and other public spaces particularly in the Federal Capital Territory by the Abuja Environmental Protection Board and other law enforcement agencies under the guise of arresting alleged prostitutes and persons constituting public nuisance.³⁶ The Statement condemning the raids and arbitrary arrests and detention was followed by convening public hearing to investigate allegations of human rights violations by security agents during the raids.³⁷

4.0 DECRIMINALIZATION OF PETTY OFFENCES CAMPAIGN AND THE COVID 19 EXPERIENCE IN NIGERIA

4.1 Following the Covid 19 pandemic, the Government of Nigeria took proactive steps by declaring the Covid 19 virus as an infectious disease and issued Regulations in line with the Quarantine and Public Health Act/Laws in order to safeguard lives and public health. By Regulations issued both at the national and sub-national levels, mandatory lockdown of states and the Federal Capital Territory, Abuja were imposed by the Government and citizens were ordered to stay at home to enable the Nigeria Centre for Disease Control (NCDC) to trace, contact, test, isolate and treat persons who may have been exposed or contracted the virus.

4.2 The Regulations also empowered the security agencies to ensure compliance and enforcement of the stay-at-home order resulting from the lockdowns. Although the regulations were rightly issued to safeguard public health and safety, there were however concerns by the Commission that the enforcement of the Covid 19 regulations by security agencies may lead to an increase in criminalization of petty offences (such as loitering, movements in defiance to the stay-at-home orders) and violation of human rights.

4.3 In view of the above enforcement mandate handed to security agencies, the National Human Rights Commission in Advisories issued to security agencies and members of the Public on 31st March and 9th April, 2020 admonished security agencies to carry out the enforcement exercise in line with international and national human rights laws as well as international best practices to ensure that the rights of Nigerians are not unduly violated in the course of carrying out the enforcement mandate. The Commission also informed members of the public and its staff to monitor the public space and report any human rights infraction by security personnel or other actors during the lockdown.

- 4.4 To enhance its ability to observe, monitor, document and report on human rights violations in real time, the Commission in partnership with Open Society Initiative for West Africa (OSIWA), Shehu Musa Yar' Adua Foundation, Nigerian Civil Society Situation Room, Department for International Development (DFID), UKAID and Policy and Legal Advocacy Centre (PLAC) developed an online/tech-based platform³⁸ where citizens could report cases of human rights violations arising from the enforcement of the Covid 19 Regulations for immediate redress.
- 4.5 Through this initiative, the Commission was able to receive, monitor and document 209 incidents of human rights violations between 30th March and 4th May, 2020. Out of the 209 incidents, 41 were cases of alleged unlawful arrest and detention arising from committing petty offences (i.e for violating the restriction of movement order). The Commission also documented 30 incidents where the properties of individuals were seized/confiscated for allegedly committing petty offences (i.e for opening their shops, using their vehicles, etc despite the restriction of movement and order for businesses to close).³⁹
- 4.6 The initiative and reports of the Commission were widely received by the Government and across the country with positive reviews and this had a huge impact on the promotion and protection of human rights during the enforcement of lockdown periods occasioned by Covid 19 Regulations.
- 4.7 The reports also served as policy tools for the Commission to engage the Government, law enforcement agencies and the judiciary and advocate for the protection of the rights of Nigerians particularly against torture, inhuman and degrading treatment, undue arrests and detention, prolonged detention without bail and arraignment of alleged petty offenders before mobile courts without legal representation or adequate time to prepare for their defence.
- 4.8 The engagements with Government, law enforcement agencies and the judiciary which are ongoing have already led to the resolutions of some of the complaints, release of arrested and detained persons, while others are at various stages of investigation.

5.0 OTHER GAINS

1. Following the outbreak of Covid 19, the Government of Nigeria pardoned 2600 prisoners and ordered for their release from detention. This was done in a bid to release inmates awaiting trial, the elderly and to decongest the correctional centres.
2. The Chief Justice of Nigeria on 15/5/2020 issued directives to all courts in Nigeria to prioritize the speedy trial of criminal cases to facilitate access to justice, decongestion of correctional centres and protection of human rights. He also directed the courts to consider conditional or unconditional release of awaiting trial persons who have been detained for up to 6 years.

6.0 CONCLUSION

There is no gain saying that the Covid 19 pandemic is having a huge impact on public health and social-economic activities of many countries including Nigeria. The need to safeguard lives and public health has led to the imposition of lockdowns, closure of business, restrictions on economic activities and movements in many parts of Nigeria. Attempts at enforcing these lockdowns and restrictions of movements by security personnel have led to an increase in the arrest, detention and trials of petty offenders who are alleged to have violated the lock down and restriction of movement orders. Acknowledging the impact of Covid 19 on the economy and general well being of Nigerians, the Commission will continue to champion its decriminalization campaign against petty offences and engage the Government to address the socio-economic issues that may facilitate the violation of lockdown orders by individuals.

7.0 RECOMMENDATIONS

In view of the above discuss, the following are recommended:

- a. Courts in Nigeria should give effect to the non-custodial measures entrenched in the Administration of Criminal Justice Act/Laws by adopting alternative ways of sanctioning petty offenders such as community service, warning, mediation, etc. rather than prison sentence.
- b. Governments across all level should take appropriate steps to address the socio-economic needs of the people as well as provide adequate palliatives that would prevent persons from engaging in petty offences.
- c. The Government should abrogate and repeal all laws that seek to target persons on the basis of their social status, fortune or origin and decriminalize all laws that attack self-sustaining activities such as begging, hawking and trading.
- d. Law enforcement agencies should adopt alternative means to arrest and detention of petty offences such as warnings, mediation, community service, etc.
- e. The Government and all relevant stakeholders should collaborate to enlighten the public as well as law enforcement agents on the provisions of the Minor Offences (Miscellaneous) Act.

CHAPTER FIVE

GENERAL RECOMMENDATIONS AND CONCLUSION

Against the background of findings during the exercise, the following recommendations are made:

- a. Specific classification on Petty offences should be made in the prison system.
- b. There is need to raise awareness on the concept of Petty offenses in line with the contemplation of the African Commission on Human and Peoples' Rights.
- c. The Commission should advocate for the amendment of our existing criminal justice laws to decriminalized petty offences.
- d. The Commission should take steps to strengthen the use of Non-custodial measures as alternative to incarceration especially on matters involving petty offences.
- e. Mechanism should be put in place to ensure quick and speedy trial of inmates awaiting trial.
- f. Indigent inmates and those without legal representation should be afforded legal representation preferably from the Legal Aid Council of Nigeria, The Nigerian Bar Association and other key stakeholders to ensure and protect the right of inmates to access justice and fair hearing.
- g. There is need to strengthen cooperation among key stakeholders in the criminal justice system in order to ensure speedy disposition of cases and reduce the incidence of pre-trial detention.
- h. Efforts to address non release of detainees granted bail ought to be improved, especially contacting family members who may help process the conditions. Feedback that family members of some detainees are unaware of detention raises concerns on compliance with benchmarks (Mandela Rules)that requires holding facilities to ensure contact with Detainees Family Members. It is therefore recommended that attention of the Prison Administration is drawn to this and steps to facilitate compliance ensured.
- i. Inmates that are charged with minor and petty offences should be separated from others facing more grievous or serious charges/offences.
- j. Minors should not be held in facilities meant for adults.
- k. More Prison blocks with cells should be built to create more space for inmates and aid in the decongestion of the prisons
- l. Old and dilapidated structures in the Prisons should be urgently renovated to make it habitable and fit for both inmates and prison officials.

CONCLUSION

In the light of the findings from this exercise, it is important that Government should improve prison facilities across the country so that the living conditions of inmates will be improved in line with best practices and human rights law.
